Winkler got a head start on the hunting season last week when he dropped this 40 pound bobcat just three miles southeast of Hondo. Winkler was pulling weeds when he saw his faithful dog for the varmint. He didn't know exactly what the dog had but ran for his rifle, came back and killed the bobcat. Winkler was telling us about the incident, we decided we have Rover in the picture too, and here he is. The incident took place in the Schweers pasture, and Winkler is watching for this bobcat. He had not missed any chickens or livestock.

The entire community is proud of the new super-market, and it is indeed beautiful. It is not the first new building since the end of the war because we have seen a great deal of expansion in the last few years. It will not be the last such building, either. Hondo is still growing, and the new project under way by Hondo business people will come to town to trade, and the way to progress, and it helps everyone. People spend all of their money in one place, and anything that attracts shoppers to town directly helps all of the stores, and when you have a variety of establishments such as we have here in Hondo, it is a pleasure for folks to shop. Store owners have another responsibility, too. They have to constantly watch their stock, and see to it that they keep a wide range of sizes, colors and brands on hand. When some one comes to town to buy a size 16 shirt with 35 inch sleeves, he doesn't want to be told that "we've been out of that size for a month now." Every time that happens, someone decides to try elsewhere, and there is always a danger that he won't come back. Good store keeping, pleasant sales people, and clean, modern stores—that's what builds a better business district. Hondo is getting better all the time.

Trailer Fire Injures Three People

Early Wednesday morning, a fire broke out in a trailer owned by Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Pope of Jonesville, Michigan. They have two sons, Charles, 15, and Jimmy, 12. The Popes, on their way to Houston, stopped here for the night at a trailer camp.

The fire occurred about 2:15 A. M. and was extinguished with the help of neighbors before the fire department arrived. It started when one of the boys mistakenly turned up an oil heater instead of turning it down. Mr. Pope and Charles suffered second degree burns. Charles also received a gash on the forehead when he went out the trailer window, head first. Jimmy received only minor bruises, however, the three of them were hospitalized for the night. Mrs. Pope escaped without injury.

Damage to the trailer, linens and blankets is estimated at $50 to $100.

The name of his successor has not been announced.

Two Fire Alarms Within A Week

D'HANIS—The D'Hanis Volunteer Fire Department was called out twice last week to put out fires in homes. On Wednesday a dwelling belonging to the Southern Pacific Railroad and occupied by the Miguel Zapata family was destroyed by fire of unknown origin. All furniture was burned.

Thursday the fire alarm was sounded when neighbors of Mrs. Ella Nester saw smoke coming out of her house. Upon entering the kitchen, firemen found a charred cooking vessel which had been left on a burner on the stove.

C of C Asks Books For Younger Set

The Chamber of Commerce has been buzzing recently as a result of the many children interested in borrowing some of the excellent books available to them free of charge.

For the little ones there are stories such as "The Smart Little Mouse," "No. 9 Fire Engine Truck," etc. The older boys seem to prefer stories such as the adventures of the "Rover Boys." While the girls like the "Aunt Jane" series.

Mrs. G. O. Braden, Chamber secretary, points out that the library offers a large variety of books for older children as well as adults, but could use more books for the children in the first, second and third grades.

If you have any books which perhaps your children have outgrown, the library could use these to a great advantage.

Hunting Is Fun For Careful Ones

Hunting's safety record ranks among the very best of all participant sports. That record can be improved with your help by simply making certain that your shooting and that of your friend's complies with the following ten commandments of safety:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the first rule of gun safety.
2. Guns carried into camp or home, or when otherwise not in use, must always be unloaded, and taken down or have actions open; guns always should be carried in cases to the shooting area.
3. Always be sure barrel and action are clear of obstructions, and that you have only ammunition of the proper size for the gun you are carrying. Remove oil and grease from chamber before firing.
4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble; keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot.
5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger. Know the identifying features of the game you intend to hunt.
6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; avoid all horseplay while handling a gun.
7. Unattended guns should be unloaded; guns and ammunition should be stored separately beyond reach of children and careless adults.
8. Never climb a tree or fence or jump a ditch with a loaded gun; never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle.
9. Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water; when at target practice, be sure your backstop is adequate.
10. Avoid alcoholic drinks before or during shooting.

If you want to have, or have to give, a hunting lease, the Chamber of Commerce will be glad to assist you in either case.

Lackland AB Glee Club Concert Soon

Lackland AFB's Pre-Flight Glee Club, 50 voices strong, will present a concert for the people of Hondo, and the personnel of Hondo AFB at 7:30 P. M. next Tuesday, November 17th, at the Hondo High School Auditorium.

The Glee Club performance, sponsored by the Base Chaplains Section, will be under the supervision of Chaplain Alfred L. Alley. A-3C Thomas Shaw will be the director, and A-1C Paul E. Knox will be the accompanist.

For some of the pre-flight cadets in the club, the concert trip may mean a look at their next Air Base home, since Hondo is one of the Flying Training bases where pre-flight graduates receive primary flight training.

Present plans call for the glee club to leave Lackland Tuesday at 2:00 P. M. for Hondo. Upon arrival at the Flying Training base, the group will be officially welcomed by Lt. Col. Samuel S. Williamson, the Hondo AB commander.

During the afternoon the student singers will view Hondo's flying training program in action. Then, after dinner at the Cadet mess, they will be taken to the high school auditorium for their evening performance.

Included in the concert will be renditions of two popular Rogers and Hammerstein compositions "You'll Never Walk Alone," and "There is Nothing Like a Dame."

Selections in the spiritual and religious music field will include "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" by B. A. C. H., "Oh, Jesus, Grant Me Hope and Comfort" by Franck, and "Dark Water" by James.

There is no admission charge and everyone is cordially invited.

R. Maurina Hospitalized

NATALIA — Refugio Maurina, age about 68, received a head injury Thursday afternoon when struck by a car driven by Ray Heiser.

Heiser stated that he and Co-ca, as she is known, walked out of the post office about the same time; he got into his car and started backing out, and felt the car bump into something, stopped immediately and she was lying beside the car.

A doctor was called immediately, and she was sent to Santa Rosa Hospital for further examination.

Heiser says he believes she struck her head on the pavement when she fell.

FIRE DAMAGES HOMER WILSON HOME

Spontaneous combustion is thought to have caused the fire which damaged the new addition to the Homer Wilson home. Mrs. Wilson awakened Saturday night and found the room full of smoke. Due to the quick action on the part of Mr. Wilson, further damage to the rest of the house was avoided.

New Super Market Opens In Hondo This Weekend

Thursday, November 12, is the opening day for the new Nester Market and Grocery on Highway 90. The Nesters have been in business for eight years. Plans for expansion began about a year ago, and the fact that the site and the building were well planned can be seen by the public on Thursday. There are 6,000 square feet of floor space inside of the building. Ample parking space is provided for customers.

Bobby Nester is now a partner in the business with his father, E. M. Nester.

Since women spend approximately 80 per cent of the family income, every possible shopping convenience for the ladies has been included in the store.

Fluorescent lighting is used throughout the building. The entire east side of the building features self-serving refrigerator units for frozen foods, fresh veg-

Cadet Show Wins Crowd

Standing room only was available Tuesday night when the Hondo Air Base cadets put on their variety show in the high school auditorium. Proceeds were to benefit the Elementary Parent Teacher Association activities.

Hypnotism was practiced by A-C Robert M. Macey of Chicago, Ill., who filled the stage with people apparently in a trance. He had them "Fishing," waving handkerchiefs, making faces, crying like a baby and then climaxed the act by giving a mental "hotfoot" to at least one of his victims.

A barbershop quartet opened the show, and was called back for encores. They were A-C Ronald W. Terry, of Norfolk, Va., A-C Yvon J. Boudreau of Amesbury, Mass., A-C Dwayne Decker of Platteville, Nebraska, and A-C Richard M. Reed of Miami, Fla.

Comedy relief was furnished by A-C William A. Windham, of Tallulah, La., made up in blackface, while vocalist A-C Lester M. Goldsmith of Englewood, N. J., displayed exceptional talent.

An instrumental trio composed of A-C Gerald W. Boudhillet of New York, N. Y., A-C Alex M. Thompson of Coachella, Calif., and A-C Robert F. Stuart of Santa Barbara, Calif., on electric guitar, ukele and drums performed creditably.

Hillbilly yodeling was handled by A-C Francis P. Younggren of Covington, Mich., and master of ceremonies was A-C Roy F. Brown of North Carolina, assisted by A-C Robert C. Williams of New York, N. Y., who opened and closed the show.

"Fishnet," a radio detective story, carried local names and humor with Detective Wednesday (A-C Robert C. Williams) doing the narrative, assisted by A-C Archibald S. Waller of Newark, Ohio, A-C Robert Pluchak of Baltimore, Maryland and A-C Robert W. Fizer of Van Nuys, Calif.

A-C James S. Stimmel of Avenal, Calif., was assistant to the hypnotist; A-C Michael S. McCrum of Argentina, South America and A-C David F. Hoyer of Milwaukee, Wisconsin were the production managers. A-C James H. Green of Fort Worth served as prop manager and artist.

A return engagement was promised at the close of the show providing the public desires and judging from the audience reaction, another full house seems assured.

BALLOTING FOR NEW DIRECTORS

A nominating committee, appointed by Charles Larkin, president of the Chamber of Commerce, held a meeting Thursday November 5th at 2:00 P. M. for the purpose of placing names of prospective directors on a ballot to be sent to each member of the Chamber.

The committee included Messrs Harry Filleman, George Dawson, Paul Pope, Albert Schifers and Henry Windorow.

Three of these prospective directors will be chosen by majority vote and installed for a three year term.

Annual Invasion Monday

Those who haven't heard about the deer season opening Monday morning, November 16 may think the men from Mars have landed... but most folks around Medina county are familiar with the annual invasion of deer hunters.

The season this year looks better than it was in 1952, since the rains came in time to produce vegetation that has fattened up the surviving deer. A few died from starvation during the long drought, but the hunting this season ought to be about as good as ever once more, according to local folks who keep up with the situation.

Two gobblers is the limit in Medina county, a variation from the usual three in Texas.

Hunters have been swarming into the county for the past three weeks, checking up on their leases, and getting the camps ready for the big barrage.

About eight o'clock Monday morning, we are expecting to see the first deer brought around the Anvil Herald office, and hope to have his picture in next week's issue. The same goes for any extra big ones nailed this year, too.

Take Care Of Venison

A practical side to the sport after the proud buck has fallen says R. E. Callender, extension wildlife specialist, is the preservation of the meat. Don't waste an ounce of it, he says, because venison is a palatable substitute for domestic animals. Deer meat may be processed similar to beef or lamb.

Immediately after the animal is shot in the field, bleed and quickly remove the viscera, Callender says. The carcass should be wiped dry inside with clean rags and if the animal is badly shot up it may be necessary to wash the inside with hot water. In any case, dry the carcass promptly.

Cool It Quickly

The prize possession should remain dry and be cooled immediately. If cold storage is unavailable, prop open the carcass and hang it from a tree to chill at night and during the day wrap it in a tarp or blanket and move to a shady spot.

Transport the fallen buck inside the car or in the trunk. This, Callender adds, is better than on the fender next to the warm engine. The buck should be wrapped for protection, especially from flies.

Deer meat is successfully cured, but the thick, plump rounds process best. The most satisfactory method is to have the carcass cut into the desired pieces and placed into a freezer locker, Callender points out.

He says the shoulder, neck and lower portion of the ribs when boned makes good sausage. Two parts venison and one part pork fat is a flavorful mixture, but for a dryer product use three parts deer meat and one of pork fat. Season with 14 ounces of salt and three ounces of black pepper to 50 pounds of meat before it goes into the grinder. Some, Callender says, prefer to season with salt only at the time the meat is ground. Other seasonings are added later for meat loaf, hamburger or chili.

If the meat must be transported a considerable distance it may keep better if first frozen solid. But, Callender concludes, frozen meat must always be utilized as soon as possible after thawing.

Harold Keller Injured As Comets Blast Corpus 21-0

By Gerald Kempf

The St. Louis Comets, averaging a 30-7 loss of last year, smeared a thick coat of white-wash on a surprised Corpus Christi Cavalier eleven to the tune of 21 to 0. The victory was costly for the Comets, however, as in the fading minutes of the first half, they lost the services of their Star Tailback and captain, Harold Keller. Keller, the Junior block-buster, received an injury on his left elbow on the kick-off after he had scored the second Comet touchdown, and was rushed immediately to the hospital for treatment. X-rays showed no fracture, but a bad dislocation of the elbow, and Keller will probably be lost to the Comets for the remainder of the '53 season.

After a scoreless first quarter which was highlighted by Mark Kempf's timely running, and a tight Comet defense, the Comets opened up in the second stanza. Harold Keller began to operate as he shot a screen pass to the six behind beautiful blocking. 2 plays later, Halfback Mark Kempf, scampered around left end for the touchdown from 8 yards out. Lynn Tschirhart booted the extra point. Still in the second period, the Comets added their second score, and again it was set up by Keller's deadly passing. First he flipped one to Halfback Charles Haby, who carried to the 14. Then, following a Comet penalty, Keller completed another to Lynn Tschirhart on the 8. On the very next play Keller circled right end for the tally. Lynn Tschirhart again split the uprights and the Comets held a 14 to 0 half-time lead.

Both teams battled to a standstill again in the third period but on the first play of the final quarter the Comets added their last score. Once more the Comet passing did the trick, as Tailback Maurice Etter, replacing the injured Keller, fired a short pass to Right End Pat Lafferty, the latter racing 30 yards for the touchdown. Lynn Tschirhart this time passed to Left End Justin Jungman for the extra point and the Comets had the game won, 21 to 0.

The Cavaliers threatened to score twice in the last quarter but both times the rugged Comet defense held stiffly, especially when they neared the double stripe. Mark Kempf carried the bulk of the offensive load for the Comets as he averaged about 7 yards on 14 carries.

Kempf, Charlie Haby, and Leonard Tschirhart, Comet back, also put on a fine exhibition of pass defense, while the line, led by Henry Lee Keller, Glenn Stein, Gilbert Kempf and Jake Tschirhart consistently rushed the Cavalier backs hardly ever allowing them to get started.

Sore by quarters:
St. Louis 0 14 0 7 21
Comet scorers: TD's Mark Kempf 1, Harold Keller 1, Pat Lafferty 1, Pat's Lynn Tschirhart 2; Justin Jungman 1.

CASTROVILLE LOSES NON-CONFERENCE GAME

The Castroville Wildcats lost at Northside Friday night in a non-conference game. In the opening minutes of the game Billy Copeland broke loose on a dazzling 95 yard run that put the Rams out front. Later in the same period Nelson Bippert raced around end for the Wildcats first TD, then converted and put Castroville ahead 7-6.

C. Potter took a pass in the end zone to score again for the Rams, and Copeland converted for the extra point. The Rams then kicked off and Nelson Bippert received the ball for the Wildcats and raced 80 yards for pay dirt to tie the ball game up 13-13 at half time.

M. Strohmayr plunged over center and scored for the Rams in the third period putting Northside in the lead 19-13. Nelson Bippert again tied the score when he galloped around end for Castroville. Northside's winning touchdown was made by Copeland when he plunged over center ending the game 25-19.

The Wildcats play at Southwestern November 13, then play Dilby at home for the last game, November 20.

Owls Lose To Carrizo Springs 21 To 13

By Paul Holliday

The Hondo Owls traveled to Carrizo Springs Friday night to meet the Carrizo Wildcats in the third district game of the season. The Owls have now won one game and lost two in district play. Johnny Morin, the top ground gainer in the Owls victory over Cotulla, was suffering from injuries and saw very little action. Other than that the Owls were at top strength for the game.

Morin's pass was again intercepted by B. Tumlinson for Carrizo. In 3 plays Holden carried the ball from the Carrizo 27 to Hondo 25 yard line. From there B. Tumlinson circled end for the first Carrizo touchdown. B. J. Tumlinson kicked the extra point, making the score 7 for the Wildcats, and 0 for the Owls. B. J. Tumlinson kicked off to the Hondo 14 where it was taken by Morin and returned to the 34 yard line.

On the first play the Owls were penalized 15 yards for an illegal procedure. Morin lost 3 yards and then Schweers kicked to the Hondo 47. The Wildcats were unable to gain and punted to the Owls 43. Morin picked up 4 yards off tackle as the quarter ended. The score was still 7 for Carrizo and 0 for Hondo.

SECOND QUARTER
Alderete carried for 3 yards over tackle and then lost 2 yards on the next play. Schweers punted out of bounds on the Wildcats 20. Carrizo picked up one first down then punted to the (Continued On Page 8B)

Deer Hides Put To Good Use

AUSTIN—A quiet audience of more than 2,000 persons will be listening for distant gunfire when Texas deer hunters take to the stands Monday, November 16.

The hunters won't see them. They are patients in the state tuberculosis hospitals located at San Angelo, Tyler, San Antonio and Legion.

Last year Texas hunters sent 24 deer hides to the patients in McKnight Sanatorium, near San Angelo. It cost them nothing. Tanning and even shipping costs were donated.

"Could I make a pair of baby shoes?" was the first question asked of Mrs. Alice Coombs, director of occupational therapy for the state hospital system, when she went to McKnight to instruct the patients in making articles of the leather.

That query came from a young father who had never seen his four-months-old son. Needless to say there will be a pair of soft, baby moccasins on that Christmas tree this year.

"If the hunters in Texas would only send these patients one tenth of the hides from the deer they

HOOTS SHOW GOOD FORM

By Paul Holliday

FIRST QUARTER

Charles Tilley kicked off to the Sabinal 15. The ball was returned to the Sabinal 28 yard line. Sabinal was unable to gain and punted to the Hondo 39. Larry Keel returned the punt 32 yards to the Sabinal 31. Keel then broke over tackle for 31 yards and a touchdown, but there was a clipping penalty against Hondo. The penalty was from the point of the foul and put the ball back on the Sabinal 32. Alvin Hartman picked up 5 yards over guard. Keel carried the ball over tackle for 27 yards and a touchdown. The ball was fumbled on the try for the extra point, and the score remained 6 for Hondo, and 0 for Sabinal.

With the ball on the Sabinal 28 yard line Hartman made 6 yards over guard. Ray Highsmith circled end for 18 yards and a first down on the Sabinal 4. On the next play Hartman ran over center for the touchdown. Again for the try for the extra point was no good.

COMETS LOSE THIRD GAME OF SEASON

By Gerald W. Kempf

CASTROVILLE — The St. Louis Comets dropped their third game of the season as they were upset by the St. Joseph Bloodhounds of Brownsville, 14 to 12, last Saturday night.

The Comets, hampered by the absence of Tailback Harold Keller and Halfback Mark Kempf due to injuries, and four costly fumbles, were heavy favorites for the tilt, since Brownsville had not yet won a game this season.

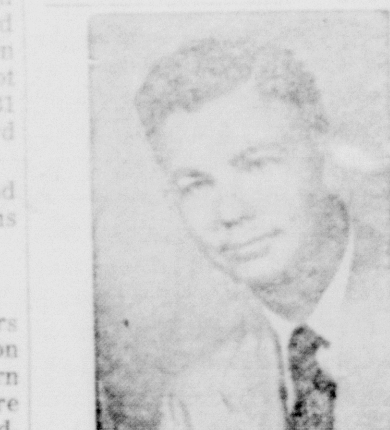

It appeared as if the Comets were on the way to their sixth win as early in the first quarter Halfback Charles Haby raced around right end for 50 yards and the initial Comet touchdown. Lynn Tschirhart's try for extra point was wide. Later in the same quarter St. Josephs added their first score of the night as Halfback Armando Lucio scampered 41 yards on a reverse to pick up the tally. Abe Alvarez put the Bloodhounds ahead, 7-6, by plunging over for the extra point.

The Comets, however, were not to be denied as they again took the lead in the second quarter. Maurice Etter banged over from the one to climax a 42 yard drive. Lynn Tschirhart's kick for the extra point was no good and the Comets held a 12 to 7 half-time lead.

Both teams battled to a standstill in the third quarter and most of the final period. Then, with less than one minute left to go in the ball game, Brownsville sent Fullback Abe Alvarez over from the five yard line with the game-winning touchdown. Armando Lucio blasted across for the point after and the Bloodhounds had their first win of the season, 14 to 12.

Statistics were approximately even, with Brownsville holding very slight edges in almost all departments. Standouts for the Brownsville eleven were Lucio and Alvarez, both of whom played a fine ball game. Lynn Tschirhart, Charles Haby, and Henry Lee Keller led the Comets both offensively and defensively.

This weekend the Comets have no game but they will be working hard for their annual grid clash with the LaCoste Eagles on November 21. Last year the Comets downed the Eagles 19 to 0 in a very thrilling game.

Dear Friend:

I want to send you The Anvil Herald every week from now until April 1, 1954, for the special get-acquainted price of just $1.00.

That's right. From now, clear up to next spring for one solitary dollar bill.

You may wonder why we make this offer, and I'll tell you. Over the years, we have found that most of the folks who read The Anvil Herald enjoy it so much they keep right on renewing it, year after year. What we want to do is to make it so easy for you to read the county paper this winter that you'll get a chance to see why our subscription list has been getting bigger all the time.

There is news about your neighbors — weddings, funerals, showers, accidents, good news — sad news — the way to know what is going on in Medina county is to read The Anvil Herald.

The ladies who do the cooking find the grocery specials worth checking, too. You can save hours of walking and looking when you read about things on sale at the stores. You can make up a shopping list before you leave home when you look over your copy of The Anvil Herald.

The classified ads are still another important reason why more folks subscribe every year. News of what somebody wants to sell is often just what you have been wanting to buy, and many folks have saved enough on a lucky purchase through the classified ads to pay for years of good reading.

Write your name on the coupon — and mail it today. The sooner you mail it, the more papers you'll get, because this offer starts RIGHT NOW, and runs to April 1, 1954.

Do it today, and you'll get your first copy of The Anvil Herald next week. AND you'll get them all, way up to next spring, for only one dollar.

Sincerely yours,

William E. Berger

Publisher.

IF YOU NOW GET THE PAPER and still would like to take advantage of our special $1 offer, clip your name and address from the top of your paper, so we will get it exactly right, enclose it with a dollar bill and we'll be glad to give you the same deal. We'll add four full months to whatever date is shown on your address label.

Written Contract On Farm Rental Avoids Trouble

At this time of the year, landlords and tenants alike are thinking about farm rental arrangements for 1934. While many operate from year to year on the basis of verbal agreements regulated largely by local customs, written leases are better and may save disagreement and hard feelings between the parties.

Farming is a business and it should be conducted in a business-like manner for best success. Rental contracts involve a full year's work by the tenant and possibly thousands of dollars for both parties. A few dollars spent on a properly drawn agreement is a good business economy.

A farm lease is not a simple paper. Printed lease forms often turn out to be traps if not understood, or if not properly executed. A farmer-tenant contract is intricate and of such importance to both parties concerned that amateur draftsmanship is risky.

Fixing of cash rent or designating the length of term are relatively simple. Yet, even in these matters, ambiguity or incompleteness can cause bitter disputes and expensive lawsuits.

A loosely drawn property description may have consequences entirely unintended by either landlord or tenant. Where rent is to be based on acreage, an accurate description is doubly important.

In addition, there are legal rules to substitute for some omissions in written leases. For example, the tenant who holds over beyond his term may automatically renew the contract if the lease is silent on the subject. It is as important to know the results of commissions as to know the courts' interpretation of the language used.

There are many matters which should be covered by a properly drawn lease. For instance, if tenant is to farm on a share basis, care should be taken to define what expenses are to be paid by the parties as well as what shares are to be taken out. A lease should cover such things as to who is to make repairs, what land is to be cropped, whether the tenant can cut timber, whether loss of a building by fire or other causes free the tenant, or whether the landlord must accept a sub-tenant.

One great cause of difficulty with leases is blind faith on the part of the persons involved that all differences of opinion can be worked out. Poor memories as to verbal agreements can cause disputes between person even though they are both honest and generous.

Many of the possibilities that should be covered by a properly drawn lease will not occur to inexperienced

From where I sit... by Joe Mar

Sheriff's "Push" Pulls a Vote

Was talking with our newly elected Sheriff Williams the other day. He told me about a fellow who stopped by his place late one night just before election.

"Heard a knock at the door," he said. "Fellow I never saw before. Told me his car went dead down the road and would I give him a shove. My boy, Flip, and I went out to his car with him. We're all set to push when he steps on the starter and the motor turns over.

"Well, Flip and I just stood there when the fellow leans out the window and says, 'I wanted to make sure you're the right man to vote for.'

From where I sit, the fellow who's just to lend a hand to any community a better one you don't have to run for to prove you're a good one. One way I know is just to give a little regard for the other fellow. Whether your neighbor likes or buttermilk, don't try to him to your choice. Just give your "vote of confidence."

KEEP EYES OPEN WHEN DRIVING, SAYS LAW

Aside from considerations of personal safety, proper driving habits and observance of traffic laws will help prevent financial loss. This is true in spite of the fact that most people now carry liability insurance as a protection under the Texas "Drivers Responsibility Act." Jury verdicts in personal injury cases tend to go higher and higher, and the likelihood of suffering an adverse judgment for an amount in excess of the limits of your liability policy is ever present.

Fault, or liability, is determined by applying the law to the particular facts of an accident. In Texas the law is in several forms—the statutes as enacted by the legislature, the ordinances of each city and town, and the court decisions in cases similar to the one to be decided.

A negligent or intentional act is necessary in order to impose legal liability for damages. Where both parties to an accident are negligent, the court will very likely say that both are at fault, and that each must pay for his own damages.

Two of the most important legal rules pertaining to accidents are those having to do with "Proper look-out" and "proper control." Driving in a lawful manner and complying with all ordinary traffic rules is not always sufficient. In addition, the driver is expected by law to be alert to all that is happening around him.

If an accident should occur and the driver has not been alert—has failed to keep a proper look-out—he may be charged with "improper look-out" as a traffic violation and also held liable in damages to the other driver. The courts call a "proper look-out" such a look-out as a reasonably prudent driver would have kept under the same circumstances.

Of equal importance is the rule of "proper control." This rule means pretty much what those words imply—that the driver should have his car under such degree of control as to be ready for any emergencies as might arise. It may be breached even though no violation of ordinary traffic laws is involved.

For instance, a driver may be complying with the legal speed limit but still be driving at a rate of speed which is unsafe under the existing circumstances.

Even though legal speed limits are expressed in terms of a certain number of miles per hour, conditions may arise which prevent the driver from maintaining proper control of his automobile at that speed. On a rainy day on a slick street or highway, or in heavy traffic, the reasonably prudent driver will know that he should reduce his speed considerably below the legal maximum.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

PVT. ALEX J. TSCHIRHART, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex H. Tschirhart, has arrived at the anti-aircraft artillery replacement center, at Fort Bliss, Texas for basic military training.

CPL. JAMES D. SCHULTE, son of Edwin E. Schulte, Route 1, Dunlay, and husband of Mrs. Dorothy L. Schulte, Dunlay, recently began 16 weeks of basic training in the Anti-aircraft Artillery Replacement Training Center at Fort Bliss.

Cp. Schulte will spend the first eight weeks training on fundamental Army subjects. He will practice Infantry drill and rifle marksmanship; he will learn to fire machine guns and bazookas; and he will climax this first phase of training by a one-week maneuver in the field.

His second eight weeks will see him firing light and medium anti-aircraft artillery weapons at low-flying and high altitude aerial targets. He will first practice on the weapons in the Fort Bliss gun parks and then will travel to the million and a half acre Fort Bliss ranges actually to fire the guns.

After his 16 weeks of training, Cpl. Schulte will graduate at a formal parade and retreat ceremony. He will then be eligible for assignment in a permanent anti-aircraft artillery unit.

Attending the U. S. Naval Interior Communications Electrician School in San Diego is THOMAS J. REITZER, fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Reitzer of 1704 22nd Street, Hondo.

Before entering the Navy, he was graduated from Hondo High School.

A Dunlay resident, A2-C HUGO WURZBACH, is shown beside B-47 bomber, participating in annual Strategic Air Command Bombing and Navigation Competition at Roswell AFB, N. M., October 25-31.

The son of Mrs. Clara Wurzbach who lives at Route 1, Dunlay, Airman Wurzbach is a member of the top crew of the 22 Bombardment Wing at March AFB, Calif.

Other planes flying in the competition will be B-36's, B-50's and B-29's, all part of the deadly SAC team that poses a threat to potential enemies.

Purpose of the competition is to promote competitive spirit and combat readiness as well as to determine the relative capability of bomb wings and crews to hit selected targets.

Airman Wurzbach joined the Air Force in 1952 and has been a crew chief at March since last winter.

Dried Leaves Can Be Colored:

Moisten dried flowers before drying them colors by placing in refrigerator or in a ventilated wooden box covered with wet burlap. You can dip flowers in a boiling hot water dye bath for a few seconds to color them. Or, with small quantities of dyes in paper bags, shake the dampened heads of flowers inside until tints spread on the flowers. Flower pods, stems, cones and other dried products can be colored by spraying with an air brush sprayer or a small hand sprayer. Color solution must be thin. Or you can dip the dried flowers in a vessel of water covered with a thin film of color.

Frozen Turkey: To thaw frozen ready-to-cook turkey, use the refrigerator. If you use the refrigerator, allow about two days for a large whole bird to thaw, at least overnight for a small bird half or quarter. It will take from three to nine hours for cut-up turkey to thaw enough to cook. Ask for a copy of B-201, "Let's Eat Turkey" for other details about cooking turkey.

Recipe of the Week, Venison Mince: (Any ground venison). 2 pounds cooked venison, chopped in food grinder, 4 pounds chopped apple, 2 pounds raisins, 4 cups, either brown or white sugar, ¾ cups chopped suet or butter, ½ teaspoon cloves, 1 teaspoon mace, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, 2 teaspoons salt, and 1½ teaspoon cinnamon. Add cider to cover the mixture. If cider is not available, use fruit juices or water with ½ cup vinegar. Sweet fruit juices reduce the amount of sugar required. Cook very slowly until the fruits are tender (about 1 hour). Venison is among the most highly prized wild game. Good cooking is important to appetizing venison dishes. It can be as good as the best meat from the butcher. It should not be necessary to conceal the venison flavor. The characteristic flavor seems to be concentrated in the fat and if strong, trimming excess fat will help. Venison is rather dry meat and is improved by addition of suet, butter or other fat when using dry heat as roasting, broiling and frying.

The Leinweber HD Club met with Mrs. Milton Leinweber as hostess on Thursday, November 5 with 8 members, Mrs. H. Yates who joined the club as a new member and Mrs. W. C. Whitehead of Rio Medina Club, present.

Mrs. Albert Saathoff, the Council delegate, gave the report of last council meeting. The 4-H tea at LaCoste on November 14th will be attended by some of the charter members.

Mrs. Whitehead gave a very good and interesting report of her trip and attendance as a delegate to the State meeting at Galveston.

Mrs. Arnold Nietenhoefer gave the demonstration on "Fabrics of Today." She displayed a collection of samples, and explained the uses and proper needle and stitches per inch in sewing the different materials to insure a seam that won't break.

The hostesses served cake, cookies and coffee.

Personal Appearance

Since the 2 is not located near the 7 on the typewriter, we are at a loss in trying to figure out how we came to register only 25 guests at the miscellaneous shower honoring MISS ELVIRA ZINSMEYER in Castroville, when actually there were 75 guests present.

CAROL SOAPE dropped us a note stating that the 7-A and 7-B grades of the Hondo Elementary School competed in a spelling bee Friday morning. The outcome was a tie, however, 7-B has beaten 7-A four times. Wonder whether CAROL is 7-A or 7-B?

HENRY LEINWEBER was in the office last week to renew his subscription, and remarked that it was the 41st time. He had first subscribed when he and the Mrs. got married, and had kept it up ever since. We got to visiting with him, and learned that he had planted two acres of corn right after it rained, about two months ago, and if frost holds off three more weeks, he expects to get some roasting ears. Ears are tassel out right now, which we think is pretty good going for about sixty days.

Mules are still being worked on his place, something else that is unusual these days.

MRS. FRED BARTHOLOME has come up with a bronze variety of chrysanthemums as evidenced in The Anvil Herald office. The blooms are immense and the red and gold colors blend beautifully.

Those of us who passed the Hondo Electric Office or the Hondo Dry Goods Store couldn't help but notice the interesting display of the FHA theme. Replicas of a church, volleyball court and house signified the following: FHA families who pray together, stay together; FHA families who play together, stay together; and FHA families who work together, stay together. Responsible for the project were PEGGY MEHLER, chairman, FRANCES ZERR, LOU ELLEN McCRAE, MABEL McDaniel and BARBARA BRADEN.

HEART TROUBLE CAN STRIKE NOW

"I think there must be something wrong with the old ticker!"

It ain't necessarily so. People who consult a doctor because they fear they have heart disease often find their symptoms are of little or no importance. Of course, their alertness is worthwhile because if heart disease is present, it is discovered in time for treatment to do the most good. Also, disease in other parts of the body may be disclosed.

A number of symptoms may point to or be confused with heart disease. The following is a partial list: rapid beating of the heart (palpitation), tiredness which is brought on easily, shortness of breath, pain in the heart and stomach region, fainting, dizziness, trembling, loss of feeling or swelling (edema) of parts of the body, or cold, clammy hands and feet.

Medical examination can reassure the patient he's all right if no disease is found or lead to early treatment if it is. Prompt, correct treatment of heart ailments in most cases adds years to the life span and permits the patient to lead a happier, more useful life.

Several procedures are indispensable to the doctor in examination of the patient with suspected heart disease. First, as in other diseases, the medical history and physical examination are of utmost importance. The patient's complaints contribute much to a correct diagnosis. Several machines give precise information about the heart. The electrocardiograph traces a pattern of the heart's action. With the x-ray machine may be seen the size and shape of the heart, appearance of the heart's chambers and valves, and perhaps defects of the heart and nearby blood vessels. Dyes or opaque substances that will cast an x-ray shadow can be injected into the veins; when they reach the heart, its parts can be seen clearly and in great detail. Interpreting the results of the many varieties of tests made with these machines requires much skill. Some diagnostic methods can be carried out only with the use of special equipment and medical teams that include heart specialists (cardiologists).

Two chief causes of heart disease are rheumatic fever and high blood pressure (hypertension). The former attacks chiefly children and young adults; the latter, more mature persons, usually 30 years and older.

In the South, rheumatic fever is less common and usually it strikes in a milder form. In fact, its mildness may cause its early symptoms to be overlooked completely, with the first evidence lying in a damaged heart. All victims do not have this complication, however. Doctors have noticed that rheumatic fever almost always follows a "strep" infection, such as "strep" throat, tonsillitis, erysipelas, scarlet fever, or middle ear infection. If the attack is mild, the usual symptoms of hot, swollen joints may easily be taken for "growing pains."

Children who have one attack of rheumatic fever are highly susceptible to subsequent attacks when exposed again to the "strep germ." Therefore, medical advice is to guard them in every way possible by isolating them from those who may have "strep" infections.

High blood pressure usually yields to conservative medical measures, such as diet, rest and drugs. Many new safe and effective drugs have been perfected. Several operations performed on carefully selected patients have given good results. One is the removal of a diseased or deformed kidney which is known definitely to be responsible for the hypertension. Another, called "sympathectomy," is removal of part of the sympathetic nervous system, two chains of nerves running along each side of the spine. Not entirely essential to life, these nerves supply the glands, smooth muscles, and small blood vessels of the body. Early detection of heart disease and correct treatment means most patients with heart ailments can look forward to a longer, more satisfying life.

Farm Economy Affected

The Texas farm economy is vitally affected by the fact that our State now uses only 15 per cent of its potential water supply. The remaining 85 per cent runs off into the Gulf of Mexico and is lost to the State.

At present, some 3,700,000 acres of land are cultivated under irrigation in Texas. Production from this irrigated acreage accounts for 40 per cent of the gross Texas farm income from harvested land.

Ground Water Depletion

Two-thirds of the irrigated acreage is based upon ground water resources. These resources are being gradually depleted by irrigation water demands. Production from this land therefore cannot logically be considered a permanent part of the future agricultural economy of Texas.

The picture this presents is clear and unpleasant.

Texas faces an eventual substantial reduction in farm income unless ground water irrigation can be replaced with irrigation using surface waters. Present rates of Texas farm income can be maintained only if new irrigation, based on reliable surface water supplies, is brought about.

Can Be Done

The appraisal of the Texas problem by the Bureau of Reclamation declares this can be accomplished. But, the report cautions, this replacement of ground water irrigation by surface water irrigation represents one of the primary water supply problems in Texas.

If the surface water supplies of Texas were fully utilized, we could bring another million acres of land under irrigation. At the same time, we could meet the vast water requirements of our expanding industry and the needs of our growing municipalities.

Must Feed More People

The Nation needs the food and fibers produced on the land already under irrigation in Texas. With a continuing expansion of our economy, the Nation also will need the food and fibers that could be produced on the additional millions of acres of land susceptible to irrigation if full use were made of our State's potential water supplies.

Where we feed four persons today, we must feed five by the year 1975. Where we used 462,000,000 acres of farmland in 1950, we will require the production from 577,000,000 acres in 1975. The potential added production from Texas will be badly needed.

National Problem

So the water problem in Texas, particularly as it affects our agricultural production, is not simply a State problem. It is a national problem as well.

It is a problem that must be solved by Federal-State co-operation.

The Bureau of Reclamation appraisal is firm in concluding that only a relatively small proportion of Texas' water requirements can be permanently supplied from ground water at a reasonable and predictable cost. It follows that most of the State's water supplies eventually must come from surface sources — from that 85 per cent of our potential water supply now allowed to drain off into the Gulf.

Texas and the Nation cannot afford to allow such a loss to continue.

Mail Xmas Gifts Overseas By Nov. 15

The local post office is getting ready for the Christmas rush hours. People planning to send gifts and Christmas cards should be bringing their address books up-to-date.

"Especially those of us with loved ones in the armed forces overseas. Too many people dilly-dally until the eleventh hour," the Postmaster warned.

Parcel post for armed service personnel in Korea, Japan and the Pacific Islands should be mailed by November 15. Articles addressed to Europe or American possessions will be delivered by Christmas if posted before November 15.

Christmas cards are the bright spot in overseas mailing. They may be sent by air mail as late as December 1. However, all overseas Christmas cards bearing three-cent stamps should be mailed by November 15.

The Postmaster also pointed out:

(1) Air parcels for overseas are limited to two pounds in weight and 30 inches in length and girth combined. At regular parcel post rates, the weight limit is 70 pounds and packages may not exceed 100 inches in combined length and girth.

(2) Foodstuffs such as fruit-cakes, cookies and candy seem to be the most popular gifts for servicemen. Don't mail perishable items. Matches and lighter fluid are forbidden. Expensive gifts should be sent by registered mail.

(3) Select a durable mailing carton of wood, metal or fiber-board. Line with newspapers to cushion any shock. Use a heavy wrapping paper and strong cord to prevent parcels breaking open. "It's particularly important," the Postmaster continued, "that an overseas address be correct and easy to read. Servicemen are on the move so much that any additional delay may mean delivery after Christmas."

To avoid any such disappointments, Postmaster Filleman recommends that you hand-print the full name, rank, service number, branch of service, organization and the army or navy post office through which the mail is to be routed.

Labels frequently fall off when exposed to moisture, so print directly on the wrapping paper. Include your return address. Repeat them both inside on the mailing carton. It's also a good idea to enclose a list of contents. "Do not open until Christmas" stickers may be attached. Place them where they won't obscure the address.

In spelling out the do's and the don'ts of his overseas program, Postmaster Filleman feels that the best advice is, "Big or small, mail them all—now!"

Local residents and business firms alike are reminded by the Postmaster, "Correct and careful mailing is just as important as early mailing. Perhaps more so. Any unnecessary delay may prevent delivery of your Christmas cards and gifts by December 25."

"Estimate the number of the stamps you'll need. Stock up on a supply of heavy wrapping paper, and strong cord. Then you'll be safely over the first hurdle in the race against time."

The important thing, of course, is to get started now. If all gift packages are mailed by December 5, and all Christmas cards by December 15, they'll arrive shortly before Santa.

Business firms can do their part by withholding all circular and catalogue mail during the critical period, December 15-25. It will also help avoid Post Office congestion if their regular correspondence is posted before 4:00 P. M. each day.

Diet Curb Hits
Deer Herds

AUSTIN—Some losses to Central Texas deer herds have been traced to lack of nourishment because of the record drought, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

He said the fatalities have been limited to areas missed by scattered showers which have revived many ranges during the last six weeks.

The Director said recent studies had centered around a ranch near Austin where upwards of 20 deer carcasses were found. One stricken buck, a five pointer in the velvet, was taken to Texas A & M where Dr. R. D. Turk, member of the veterinarian staff, observed the animal before it died and then conducted an autopsy.

The Director said the examination showed conclusively that the deer suffered from malnutrition, brought on in part because the ranges have been reduced by the drought.

"We find that the deer get their stomachs full but there simply is not the required nourishment to sustain them," he explained. This particular deer's stomach contained semi-dried oak leaves, cedar needles, a little dry grass, a few wild grapes and some native bean seed.

The director said the drought's effects seemed to be particularly noticeable among younger deer such as fawns and yearlings.

PART TIME FARMING HAZARDOUS

Farmers are often asked for advice by friends who long for "A little place in the country." What do you tell them?
The first thing you can tell them is that a great number of people are already trying it. A recent census listed two-thirds of a million part-time farmers in the United States. Another million "residential" farmers do a little farming for income. Altogether, these small farms make up a third of all farms in the nation.
A lot can be learned from the small farm operators who are established. Probably they will recommend strict planning of land use. Besides a house and garden, about an acre and a quarter will be needed to raise grain to feed a couple dozen hens and 40 chicks. For a cow, the "new" farmer may need two more acres to produce hay and pasture and three-quarters of an acre for grain.
To feed three pigs 6 months takes about an acre for each for grain and pasture. And to keep a horse requires three good acres to grow pasture, hay and grain.
These estimates are based on acre yields of two tons of hay and 40 bushels of corn. If he plans to raise only fruit and vegetable for home use, half an acre to an acre of good land might be enough.
A large garden properly cared for will net about $100 to $300 a year in fresh and preserved food. More labor, skill, equipment and a larger investment are required to produce milk, meat and most specialized crops.
Both the advantages and disadvantages should be counted before plunging into part-time farming.
Among the advantages: It provides a wholesome and healthful environment for children. It gives a measure of security if the part-time farmer's regular job is lost. It furnishes outside work and recreation, beneficial to his health. It supplies the means for profitable use of spare-time labor and lowers the cost of living.
On the other hand, the job is confining, especially if he raises livestock. In times of crisis on the farm, he may get little sleep at night after a hard day's work, frequently in hot sun or cold rain.
It costs a lot of money to get started and keep going. Land near town is expensive and supplies and equipment come high. It is hazardous by reason of drought, hail, disease and insects. This cuts deeply into earnings and sometimes capital.
A good rule-of-thumb to follow is get a farm that has enough acreage to bring in the income expected—and don't set the sights too high. There is a lot to do, and a lot to learn that first year.

LOW YIELD WHEAT UNPROFITABLE

Will the coming restrictions on wheat acreage in Texas be a blessing in disguise? Perhaps—and if it forces the farmer into more profitable practices.

Surprisingly enough, wheat raised at average yields is often a relatively unprofitable crop. A recent study in a mid-western wheat growing area showed that average yields of 19 bushels per acre returned the farmer a profit of less than $2 per acre if he got $2 per bushel for his wheat. Actually, that farmer would be better off using his land for some other crop.

This doesn't mean the farmer should stop growing wheat on the vast acreages of his land. It does mean he should stop wasting his time on 19-bushel wheat. He should boost his yields.

How about this business of boosting wheat yields? Sometimes it involves using quite a bit of fertilizer, and the necessity of greater mechanization of operations. Is it profitable? Researchers say "yes."

By using enough fertilizer and time saving devices, the farmers can boost his yield to 40 bushels per acre and his profit to over $32.00. In the mid-western area where studies were conducted.

The dollar-and-cents picture in the test area looked like this: The fixed cost for low yield wheat ran to $32, plus 4.33 worth of fertilizer, for a total cost of $36.33. This yielded 19 bushels of wheat for a crop value per acre of $38. This meant only a profit of $1.67 per acre, with wheat paying $1.91 per bushel to produce.

On the other hand, the high yield wheat, using more fertilizer and efficient operations ran like this: Fixed cost $32, plus $15.85 worth of fertilizer for a total of $47.85 per acre. Production here amounted to 40 bushels per acre, for a crop value of $80 per acre. This left a profit of $32.15 per acre with wheat costing only $1.20 per bushel to produce.

Of course, wheat acreage allotments are designed to hold down production, in the first place. But a farmer producing low yielding wheat on a vastly reduced acreage next year can easily be squeezed right out of the picture.

Keep Records For Reporting Taxes

District Directors of Internal Revenue have been authorized by Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews to serve appropriate notices on persons who have not maintained, for the purpose of correctly reporting taxes, records as required by law and regulations, Director R. L. Phinney said today.

"In the case of the average taxpayer the keeping of such records is not at all difficult," Director Phinney stated, "but I do want to point out at this time that such records must be kept. Those taxpayers who have not done so should start now getting their cancelled checks, invoices, bills, receipts and other evidence of income and expenses together so they will be prepared to file their income tax forms well before the deadline next March 15."

The issuance of appropriate notices to taxpayers who had failed to keep adequate records formerly was a function of the National Office. The delegation of authority to the District Directors in this matter results from the recent Commissioner's Reorganization Order Number 23 which states:

"Pursuant to the authority vested in me as Commissioner of Internal Revenue, District Directors of Internal Revenue are hereby authorized to require any person, by notice served upon him, to keep such records as shall show whether or not such person is liable to the income tax under Chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code, and the correct amount of income subject to tax."

That Reorganization Order has been implemented, Director Phinney stated, by an internal memorandum which outlines for the Districts the procedure to be followed in cases in which taxpayers have failed to maintain the proper and adequate records.

"Although the Internal Revenue Office will do everything it can to help taxpayers fill out forms properly and to answer their questions in the next few months we will have much more time to be helpful in January and February than we will when the early March rush arrives," the Director added.

Most people should have no difficulty in filling out their tax forms properly if they have kept simple records or have other evidence of income and expenses and will read carefully the instructions which will accompany the tax forms when they are ready for distribution about December 15 at the District office here, he explained.

"However, for those who do have questions they can't answer from the instructions, we will have agents available for personal interviews and to answer telephone inquiries," he said. "Some taxpayers will have questions about new babies, medical expenses, part time employment, the cost of baby sitters, alimony, support, pensions, retirements and such situations as apply to Service men and their wives. We will give them all the help we can."

WALKING CAN BE FATAL

The Texas Safety Association says that a child's first sign of personal independence usually is learning to feed himself. Most frequently, the second sign is learning to walk.

Often the first faltering steps are taken before the child's first birthday—and all too often in later years, the same feet, grown larger, carry their owner to sudden death in the middle of a street.

Walking, the second sign of independence, learned so early in life, seldom is learned well enough, it seems. Certainly it wasn't learned well enough by the 8,600 pedestrians who were killed or the 165,000 pedestrians who were injured by motor vehicles in 1952.

In all these cases the pedestrians walked into danger spots at the wrong time, even though sometimes they may have had the legal right to be there. Of course in some of these cases the motorist could have prevented the accident if he had observed the laws and common sense safety rules of traffic. But it might very well be that all of these pedestrians, if they had been exercising caution to the fullest possible extent, never would have walked into the danger that suddenly confronted them.

Last year 8,600 pedestrians literally "walked themselves to death."

About one-third of this number had been walking for a good many years—they were aged 65 or older. On the other hand, more than one-fourth of the total killed had considerably less walking experience, for they were children under the age of 15.

It seems that death is no respecter of any age group of pedestrians. And it also seems that long years of walking experience do not automatically provide protection.

From the time of the second sign—those first faltering infant steps—from that time forward a person may "walk himself to death."

So it seems only logical to start safety education early—from the time of the second sign—and to continue it for a lifetime. Only such training will make the child, and the adult, a skillful and safe walker, and keep him a live pedestrian, says the Texas Safety Association.

A REPRINT OF

SOME LOCAL

HISTORY

The Old Judge Harper Home

By Henry Merriman

Editorial Note: — The accompanying story is reprinted from the January 1933 issue of J. Marvin Hunter's Frontier Times of Bandera. Judge Harper's settlement on the Hondo, in 1845, was before Quihi and D'Hanis had been settled, one year after Henry Castro had settled a bunch of men in Castroville, in the fall of 1844, and the same year that the first women and children arrived there.

The school building mentioned is the one that housed the Hondo Valley Masonic Lodge No. 252, organized in 1860. As a member of this Lodge, G. W. Harper served it as Senior Warden in 1860, as Treasurer in 1861-'62-'63 and as Junior Warden in 1868. Since the story was written twenty years ago, the last member of the immediate family, Isaac H. King, has passed on, having died on September 10, 1934. His two sons, Vernon P. and H. Fisher, and one daughter, Miss Lora King, reside in Hondo and another, Mrs. J. W. Long, in San Antonio.

slaves of whom Judge Harper owned some forty to fifty. The surrounding prairies at that time were covered with tall sage-grass with here and there motts of live-oak trees. Indians made frequent raids from up the river canyons, stealing horses and mules and killing any whites they might by chance come upon. No settler dared venture from home without some sort of fire-arm to protect himself. The nearest neighbor was miles away and the town of Castroville was sixteen miles east. There was also a settlement at D'Hanis, eight miles west.

About three years after he settled on the Hondo river, Judge Harper had the misfortune to lose his good wife. In 1859 he married Mrs. Ann L. King, a widow who lived near San Marcos. The new Mrs. Harper had two sons of her own, one of them being Isaac King, a youth of about nine years at that time, and he, too, came with his mother and step-father to make his home in the Harper settlement. In 1860 was built the rock house that to this day stands a monument to the name of Judge Harper. It is said that when the house was nearly completed and ready to be roofed with cypress shingles hauled from a saw-mill on the Medina river, a party of emigrants on their way from Bandera to California, came through the Harper settlement, but on account of the river being high and impassable, they were forced to remain several days and the men of the party were given employment in roofing the house. The new house was finally completed and it, no doubt, was with considerable pride that Judge Harper moved his family from the crude picket house they had occupied for years, and into the new rock 'mansion.'

"On one occasion, the negroes came to the house early one morning and very excitedly reported that all the horses were gone from the corral and on investigation the white men found that Indians had torn the fence down during the night and stolen all the horses, including a favorite pony of Isaac King's. Word soon spread through the settlement and a posse was formed to take the trail, as the tracks of the horses were plainly visible, where they had been led out of the corral, and followed by the Indians. Young Isaac King was very eager to go with the men, if possible, recover the pony, of which he was very proud but his mother at first would not think of his going, the boy being only thirteen years of age, but he finally gained his mother's consent and the posse was off, following the trail south and down the river.

"After travelling some eight miles, they came upon the dead body of a white man. On examining the body, they found it to be that of Pete Ketchum, who was no doubt out horse hunting alone. After camping at the Red-us ranch that night, the posse resumed their journey the next morning and after proceeding a few miles, the leader stopped his horse and exclaimed, 'another dead man there in the valley.' This proved to be Mustang Moore. The Indians had killed him, and taken his horse but left the rickety old buggy after cutting the harness into strips. The town of Moore was later built on the spot and named for him. The whites followed the trail of the Indians on into Atascosa county, where they learned that the Indians had abandoned the horses and turned back and were following another route back to the hill country from whence they had come and young King was soon in possession of his prized pony again.

"About three miles down the river from the Harper home was a two-story rock house which served the settlement as a school house, and church, the second story being used by the Masonic Lodge. It was here that the younger Harper children and Isaac King walked to school, always carrying rifles which were stacked under the stair-way and ready for instant use, as was also the case on Sunday when people went to church. This old building stood adjoining what is known as the old Masonic cemetery and has been torn down, but the cemetery is in well preserved state and most of the old graves are plainly marked with stones.

"At the outbreak of the Civil War, the older Harper boys were called into service to defend the Confederacy; some of them never to return. During the war Confederate soldiers were frequently guests for the night at the hospitable home of Judge Harper.

"During these trying times a romance that proved to be far reaching, had sprung up in Harper settlement and it was even whispered among the 'darkies,' that there was a wedding to be, and in 1863 Isaac King was married to pretty Mellie Harper, youngest daughter of J u d g e Harper, and the ceremony was

SECO PHILOSOPHER CLEARS

Up A Misunderstanding On State's Rights, In A Vague Sort Of Way

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm tries his best to clear up the State's rights issue this week, but as far as we can tell he misses by several miles.

Dear editor:

Whole lot has been said about State's Rights in recent years and there's a lot of misunderstanding on the topic.

The other day I was out here flipping through a newspaper which I'd been carrying around in my pocket for several days, some people say yesterday's newspaper ain't very interesting, but it is if you haven't seen it yet, and I ran across an article which said Secretary of Agriculture Benson has proposed that the states help foot the bill for the farm program.

This is what I call a complete misunderstanding of the State's Rights argument.

State's Rights is a sacred heritage, guaranteed by the forefathers and written into the Constitution, but it ain't got anything to do with footin any bills.

The tidelands, they belong to us, but the farm problem, thunder, that's nation-wide and ought to be settled on a nation-wide basis, without respect to any state or cattle is a problem too big

Time Now For Winter Crop To Graze Cattle

For the first time in quite a while farmers have been kept out of their fields because it has been too wet to plow. Unfortunately we have not been able to make such a statement for some time.

This is the opportunity we have been waiting for to get those winter crops going. With prices in cattle as low as they are at the present time, it is going to be a paying proposition for the farmer to have something in those fields to graze this winter. As the old saying goes, "Let's make hay while the sun shines," however in our case, "let's get those seed in the ground while there is plenty of moisture." Let's also put out crops that will help to build up those soils of ours.

It is interesting to know that some of our farmers are planting deep rooted legumes again this year in a rotation plan set up on their farms. Even during the drought we have just witnessed, these farmers were able to harvest a fair crop. They were able to do this for several different reasons. First because the soil was opened up thus allowing it to take on and hold most of the water and second because the organic and nitrogen content was built up by these plants. Besides all this, they were able to graze these fields and cut down a high feed bill. If we are to remain in the farming business, we must build our soils. The Lord gave us our soil and the knowledge to work them and make a living. He has also given us the knowledge of how to care for them. Now, it is no one's fault but our own if we set idly by and watch them go down-stream. The business man audits his books to see how his business stands and makes improvements to better his business. It is high time we do the same thing in our farm business. Otherwise we may be forced to go out of business. Don't forget the famous old saying, "As the soil goes, so does the man."

performed in the rock home of the Harpers.

"Time went on and eventually Judge Harper divided his lands among his children, all of whom have passed on, except Isaac King.

"Perhaps these sturdy pioneers little dreamed that in a half century their descendants would be taking their places as leaders in the business and professional life of the town of Hondo, which was to spring up two miles south.

"Lack of space prevents the giving of names of all the descendants of the Judge Harper family.

"Mr. Isaac King, now in his eighty-fifth year, makes his home in Hondo with a daughter and is spending his declining years in comfort and despite the fact that he lost his left arm by the accidental discharge of a rifle, when a boy, and his eyesight is failing, he is cheerful and delights in relating stories of hardships of the days of yesteryear.

Mr. King's oldest living son, V. P. King, is manager of the I. H. King and Sons' Ranch near Bandera, while his youngest son, H. F. King is president of the Hondo State Bank.

The sage-grass no longer waves in the winds but as the sun lowers to the western horizon in the afternoon, the giant oaks still throw their long shadows across the old Judge Harper home, just as they did three quarters of a century ago, for is it not truthfully said, 'And the winds blew and beat upon it and it fell not?'

pocket book, especially any state I'm living in.

I believe not only in State's Rights, I believe in County Rights and Precinct Rights and Farm Rights and Home Rights and Kitchen Rights and Front Porch Rights, but I firmly believe the price of potatoes or cotton or corn for Austin or Rhode Island to be rasslin with. It may even be too big a problem for Washington, but that shouldn't keep Washington from tacklin it.

A long time ago, people tried building roads for example on the Farm's Rights principle, everybody was responsible for the road past his farm, and while this was a good idea and gave a man a lot of independence, it didn't result in any roads worth mentionin.

If Sec. Benson believes Rhode Island ought to take care of the price of cows in Rhode Island, and Texas the price of cows in Texas, he sure is off on a strange path. Doesn't he know one state would sit back and wait till some other state raised the price of cows, and then every rancher in the first state would ship all his cows to market in the latter state?

Of course, this may not be what Sec. Benson had in mind at all, maybe he thinks the government in Washington ought to administer the farm program but the states ought to help foot the bill, and while I imagine a lot of money Washington handles does come from the states, doubt if much of it comes from England, for example, or West Germany. I can tell Sec. Benson right now his proposal to have the states foot the bill on the farm program is going to be mighty unpopular. Any time I'm able to pay for my own farm program, I won't need a farm program.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Time To Plan Fertilizer Needs

If you expect to achieve maximum efficiency in the use of fertilizers for these 1954 crops, then you need to begin your fertilizer programs this fall.

even if you don't follow this practice, now is the time to plan your fertilizer needs and locate your supplies for next year.

There are several reasons why the trend now is towards working the fertilizers into the soil during the fall season, after harvesting has been completed. But fall applications are becoming more popular. They are:

- (1) A better distribution of labor may be attained. Working in the fertilizers during the "slack season" after harvest will lighten the load of farm work next spring.
- (2) Undesirable compaction of the soil may be kept to a minimum. Fields which remain fallow and unworked over an extended time begin to pack, especially if no cover crops are introduced.
- (3) Spring work may be accomplished in a more orderly fashion. Your planting season can be organized with greater efficiency if you don't have to plan for two separate operations of seeding and fertilizing.
- (4) Conservation of organic matter may be enhanced. It is a scientific fact that the bacteria necessary for good plant growth is preserved by the presence of fertilizer elements, particularly nitrogen, in the soil.
- (5) Virtually all danger of interference of fertilizers with seed germination can be eliminated. Some crops are apt to be depressed by strong concentrations of very soluble nitrogen and potassium elements in fertilizers. This is particularly true when fertilizing and seeding operations are combined or when they take place at close time intervals.
- (6) Lastly, a soil fertility "insurance policy" is provided. If fertilization is put off until spring, you may be caught by rains which make planting so late that you haven't time to fertilize beforehand.

Therefore, it may be a wise idea to make your purchases in the fall and put the fertilizer in the soil. Then you won't have to worry about storing it in buildings and can rest assured that your soil fertility for 1954 is well insured.

Unique Method Of Parasite Control Probable

We are a long way from a catleman's Utopia but recent experiments in Texas with a unique method of parasite control may be bringing it closer.

The method being studied involves the use of insecticides injected directly into cattle. Good preliminary results have been achieved but the work is still in the experimental stage.

Three chemicals have been tested, Aldrin, Dieldrin and Lindane. All three were effective in destroying the cattle grubs which spends much of its life inside the bodies of cattle.

Cattlemen would welcome such a measure if it eliminates the troublesome and costly grub. But there still are some knotty problems to be solved and a lot of unanswered questions. It must be determined whether or not these insecticides will prove both economical and safe to use over a period of time. Entomologists and veterinarians may come up with the answers when the study is completed at the U. S. D. A.'s bureau of entomology laboratory, in Kerrville.

The insecticide solution has been injected under the skin of yearling cattle in one series of tests. Injections were made at the time when grubs began to appear as bumps under the skin and were repeated every 28 days.

The insecticides are carried by the bloodstream as systemic chemicals to all parts of the animal's body. As the grubs reach the animal's back and begin to feed heavily on the flesh, they automatically dose themselves with insecticide.

Many of the larvae died soon after reaching the back. A few others continued their normal life cycle, cutting their way through the hide and dropping to the ground to pupate.

Other promising but preliminary research has shown that the screwworm fly, which lays eggs in open livestock wounds, could be controlled for as long as a month with this same method. Of the three chemicals, dieldrin proved most toxic to the screwworm.

Continued progress along this line may eventually provide farmers and ranchers with healthier and higher meat producing animals. Cattle grubs, alone, may have been estimated to cause a loss of $100 million each year through annoyance of animals and damage to meat and hides. Losses caused by screwworms are estimated to be about $25 million each year.

Family Reading Key To Mutual Understanding

COLLEGE STATION — Most people choose to read what entertains or helps them, or gives ideas for self-improvement. What does your family read? Do you include time for family discussion of certain items of interest to each member?

If reading together has become a lost art in your household, you are losing out on one of the best ways to establish mutual understanding among members of your family. According to Mrs. Eloise Johnson, family life education specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, a home reading program can lead to many happy hours together and result in a well informed group.

The specialist has three suggestions for the family interested in initiating a reading program. First, take a look at what each member of the family reads. Does the list include books, newspapers and magazines? Second, find out sources for obtaining additional reading material. Is there a library or more than one? What do the book stores contain that each member would like to read? And third, originate a family plan for reading with each member contributing suggestions for the list of material as well as ideas for reading and discussing.

The outcome may be a family library. A family reading project would involve decision making by the group, with each member having opportunity to make the final choice of books, magazines and newspapers which the budget permits. The town libraries might help in organizing the home library on a business-like basis. The undertaking would help each member acquire an interest in owning and using reading material available for families today.

"It seems appropriate right now for families to consider their reading habits, for November 15-21 is National Book Week," Mrs. Johnson adds.

Prospects Fair On Deer, Turkey

AUSTIN—Texas deer and turkey have rallied somewhat from the severe drought period and prospects are for a fair season, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

The annual big game hunt under the General State Law opens November 16 and continues thru December 31. There are special seasons for larger areas like West of Pecos, Panhandle and Possum Kingdom, as well as several special dates on the county level. Bag limits and shooting hours likewise vary.

An expected 100,000 hunters will take to the field for the fall classic. The kill on deer usually runs about 40,000 in Texas. The turkey harvest is estimated at close to 6,000. Both deer and turkey suffered from the prolonged drought but rains beginning in the late summer have at least partly relieved the crisis, on the basis of reports to the Executive Secretary.

Even in Deep South Texas the deer have rallied, although there was some die-off in the heat of the summer. Game Warden Supervisor Herbert Ward of Carriana and Supervisor John E. Hearn of Cotulla agreed that deer were on the upturn although some ranchers in their area will restrict the harvest.

Game Warden Supervisor G. M. Stricklin of Beeville said deer are coming back in this area which embraces the lower coastal plain.

In the Hill Country, game wardens reported a definite pickup in deer prospects and said wild turkeys were slowly rallying from three bad hatching seasons.

The Executive Secretary advised hunters to study their Game Law Digests on hunting regulations and to look up the local game wardens for any additional information needed.

No. 1 in Texas

by a wider margin than ever

A few weeks after the Japanese surrender in World War II, the Humble Company introduced a vastly improved Esso Extra gasoline to Texas motorists.

At that time, the Company promised a policy of continuous improvement: Humble told motorists that Esso Extra would never take second place in quality.

That promise has been kept. Improvement of Esso Extra has been continuous. Statewide, Esso Extra has consistently led other Texas gasolines in quality. Statewide, Esso Extra has been No. 1 in quality every year.

And now, because Texas motorists driving modern automobiles have learned that Esso Extra gives them extra performance, Esso Extra is also No. 1 in sales.

The improvement in the quality of Esso Extra announced by this advertisement is substantial—it is a major improvement. It places Esso Extra far ahead of other gasolines in the qualities that are reflected by performance in your car.

Today, Esso Extra gasoline is No. 1 in Texas by a wider margin than ever before.

Now the BEST gasoline in Texas is even BETTER!

Esso Extra gasoline, statewide, has consistently led all other Texas gasolines in quality; now, new improvements have widened the margin between Esso Extra and the rest: Humble Esso Extra has no equal throughout the state of Texas.

Tests prove Esso Extra's superior quality!

There are three qualities of a gasoline that are brought out in the performance of your car. In all these three qualities, Esso Extra leads.

Extensive and continuous laboratory testing of Esso Extra and other gasolines proves Esso Extra's superior qualities, and these laboratory tests have been confirmed by road testing in specially equipped automobiles.

Esso Extra leads in anti-knock performance: In today's automobile engines, with their high compression ratios, anti-knock performance is the most noticeable quality of a good gasoline. There is no substitute for this quality. Only a gasoline with a high octane rating—that is, high anti-knock performance—burns so evenly and completely that it transfers all the usable energy from the gasoline to the pistons. When your car's engine pings or knocks, you're losing power. Esso Extra has the highest anti-knock performance in Texas.

Esso Extra leads in power: High anti-knock performance assures more power. Since Esso Extra has the highest anti-knock performance in Texas, it gives you more power than any other Texas gasoline. This conclusion has been verified by special laboratory testing equipment which actually measures the power delivered by a gasoline burning in an automobile engine. Road tests by both Humble technicians and independent research facilities have confirmed the laboratory tests. Your car will develop extra power when you use Esso Extra.

Esso Extra leads in quick starting: In comparative tests with other gasolines, Esso Extra's quick starting characteristics were rated "Excellent," while those of other popular gasolines ranked from "poor" to merely "adequate." When you use Esso Extra your engine starts at almost the instant you press the starter button. But quick starting is more than a convenience. It saves gasoline, and it prevents gasoline dilution of the crankcase oil. If you use your car mostly for town driving, you will specially appreciate Esso Extra's quick starting qualities.

And for good measure, Esso Extra contains a patented solvent oil: This oil is not a lubricant. Its purpose is to dissolve the gummy substances that collect carbon on top of pistons and under valves, and thus help to prevent carbon deposits in the upper parts of the engine.

See for yourself—test Esso Extra in your own car

Esso Extra will give you the same results obtained by researchers when you test it in your car. Its quality is so superior that you will notice at once that Esso Extra gives you extra quick starting, extra anti-knock performance, extra power.

You'll discover that you enjoy your car more, that it runs better, that you're getting—at last—the performance you expect from a modern automobile. No other gasoline can duplicate Esso Extra's performance in your car, because no other gasoline matches Esso Extra's quality.

Fill up with improved Esso Extra gasoline at any Humble sign—it's the same extra performance gasoline at every Humble sign.

Misinterpretation Of Law, No Excuse For Default

A father is always responsible for the support of his minor children. This is true even though the father and mother are divorced, and either or both have married again.
For example, take the hypothetical case of a man named John Smith. When he and his wife Susan were divorced, the dcrees contained an order requiring John to pay Susan $100 each month for the support of their two minor children, both of whom were under 16 years of age.
John paid the money every month for a year. Then he heard that Susan had married again, so he discontinued the monthly payments. Six months later he was served with an order citing him into court for failing to pay the money. He also was arrested and charged with family desertion, which is a felony and punishable by imprisonment.
John protested bitterly to his attorney that his former wife was married again, his children had a father, and that he no longer should be held responsible for the children. But John learned that his understanding of the law was faulty.
The attorney explained that John still was the father of his children and was as responsible for their welfare as he had ever been. This would continue until the step-father or some other person should adopt the children, or until the children became of age.
But because Susan's second husband had not adopted the children, John still was liable for the support money payments and could be punished by the court, even by imprisonment if necessary, for his refusal to comply with the court order.
Equally faulty in his conception of the law was another fictional father we shall call James Jones.
A Texas court awarded his divorced wife $75 per month for support of their minor child. James paid the support money each month for some time.
Recently, however Jones remarried, and, in the financial strain of establishing a new home decided to cut down on the payments. Instead of sending his former wife $75 each month, he sent $10. He thought he was staying within the law because he was after all, giving something toward his child's support.
Jones was dismayed, therefore,
to learn that he not only was liable for the back payments under civil action, but that his conduct was found to constitute contempt.
Other reluctant fathers have learned that in 1951 the Texas
Legislature adopted the Uniform
Reciprocal Enforcement or Support Act which is designed to make it possible and practical to enforce both the civil and criminal provisions of our law relating to the support of children against fathers who leave Texas in an effort to avoid their legal and natural obligation to support their children.

Pecan Harvesting Becomes Mechanized Job

Pecans should be harvested upon maturity when they separate readily from the green husks, says John E. Hutchison, extension horticulturist.
Timely harvesting, not only prevents crows, squirrels and natural deterioration from materially reducing the crop, but, points out Hutchison, prices for fancy in-shell pecans are best during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

As with other agricultural commodities, growers believe the future of the pecan industry depends upon the development of mechanical harvesting devices to eliminate expensive hand labor. Several mechanical tree shakers have been developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, he says.

One such mechanical harvester is a combination huller separator which hulls unopened nuts and separates all pecans from husks, leaves and other trash. The shaker is comparatively inexpensive to build and is especially valuable to small producers of standard varieties, Hutchison says. Some growers report reduced harvesting costs of one-third to one-half by using machines.

The tree shaker is a fairly simple device and can be built in any farm machine or blacksmith shop. Detailed plans for construction may be obtained from county agricultural agents or by writing to the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, and asking for bulletin MS-851, Pecan Tree Shakers.

Why more than a million owners this year have chosen the "Worth More" FORD!

They have discovered first hand what the surveys show...
Ford, with all its fine-car features, is worth more when you buy it, and worth more when you sell it!

OVER A MILLION OWNERS can't be wrong! Ford is the one fine car in the low-price field. It gives you the "GO," the style, the comfort, and "build" of cars that sell for far more. And, it's only natural that Ford keeps its value better, in resale, than any other car on the American Road. Check the features below for some of the "Worth More" reasons for the swing to Ford.

Lowest-priced V-8 in America! And the only V-8 in the low-price field. Ford's high-compression V-8 power plant delivers its "Go" on regular gas!
Most Modern Six of all is Ford's high-compression, low-friction Mileage Maker. With Overdrive, it was the winner in 1953 Mobilgas Economy Run.
Smoother Ride, with front end road shock reduced up to 80%, is another Ford big-car feature... and you get it without gas-eating extra weight.
Fine-Car Build means using steel of the same quality and thickness as in costlier cars. Ford is the most completely insulated car in its field.
Fordomatic Drive is the only "automatic" in its field with the "Go" of an automatic intermediate gear plus the smoothness of a torque converter.
Finest Power Steering—that's Ford Master-Guide. Does up to 75% of the steering work yet retains normal steering "feel" on the straightaways.

Join the swing to
FORD... take a Test Drive today!

HONDO OWLS

Hondo 39. Alderete carried over tackle for 4 yards and Schweers over center for 3. Schweers' pass to Alderete was good for 28 yards and a first down on the Carrizo 26 yard line. Schweers passed to Alderete again. This time for 11 yards and a first down on the Wildcats 15. Schweers' pass was incomplete but Carrizo was penalized to their own 5 yard line. Alderete carried the ball to the 1/2 yard line and then he carried the ball over for a Hondo touchdown. The try for extra point was not good.

Morins' kickoff went very short to the Carrizo 45 and was returned 3 yards. In 2 plays Holden carried the ball to the Hondo 13 yard line. On the next play Alderete recovered Holden's fumble for the Owls on the 12 yard line.

Alderete carried the ball 7 yards in 2 plays and then Carrizo recovered a Hondo fumble on the Owls' 15 yard line. On the first play Holden fired a pass to B. J. Tumlinson for the second Wildcat touchdown. Tumlinson added the extra point.

Tumlinson kicked off to the Hondo 20. Alderete returned the kick 21 yards. The Owls were penalized 5 yards for being off side and then Schweers hit Alderete with a pass good for a 20 yard gain. Schweers was unable to complete any of his next 4 passes and Carrizo took over the ball on their own 44 yard line as the half ended. At the half the score stood 14 for Carrizo and 6 for Hondo.

THIRD QUARTER

To start the second half Hondo's Johnny Morin kicked off to the Carrizo 19 yard line. Holden returned the kick to the 43. Being unable to gain the Wildcats punted to the Hondo 41. Williams made 2 yards around end and Alderete got 2 yards over center. Schweers went back to pass and was trapped for a 8 yard loss. Schweers punted to Holden on the Carrizo 30 and he returned the ball 7 yards to the 37.

The Wildcats picked up 7 yards on 2 running plays and Holden passed to Quinney for 26 yards and a first down on the Hondo 40. The Cats were unable to move from there and B. J. Tumlinson punted out of bounds on the Hondo 5 yard line. Schweers gained 2 yards for the Owls and then got off a very good quick kick that rolled dead on the Cats 44 yard line. In 3 series of downs the Wildcats moved the ball to the Hondo 12 yard line from where Holden circled end for the touchdown. Tumlinson added the extra point.

Hernandez of the Owls took Tumlinson's kickoff on the Hondo 29 and returned it 18 yards to the Owls 47 yard line. Williams ran around end for an 8 yard gain and Schweers ran over center for a 6 yard gain and a first down as the third quarter ended. The score was now 21 for Carrizo and 6 for Hondo.

FOURTH QUARTER

The Owls had the ball on the Carrizo 40 yard line to start the final quarter of play. On three ground plays Schweers carried the ball to the Cats' 29 yard line from where Williams broke over his left tackle and ran untouched for the score. Morin added the extra point.

Morin kicked off to the 25 and Tumlinson returned the ball to the Cats' 30 yard line. Carrizo was unable to move the ball and punted to the Hondo 20. Williams returned the kick 5 yards. Alderete circled right end for 24 yards and Carrizo was penalized 15 yards for piling on Alderete. This moved the ball to the Carrizo 36 and the Owls seemed to be on their way for another score. An offside penalty and 2 incomplete passes stopped them though and Schweers punted out of bounds on the Carrizo 15. Holden gained 5 yards and on the next play the pass from center was over his head and he was dropped for a 15 yard loss. Tumlinson punted to the Hondo 45 and Williams returned the kick 9 yards. Schweers passed to Hernandez for 3 yards and then to Richard Schulte for 11 yards and a first down. Schweers passed to Williams for 8 yards and another first down on the Carrizo 20. Schweers' pass was intercepted by Holden and ran back to the Carrizo 41 yard line. Smith, the Carrizo quarterback, fumbled the ball on the first play and Lindeburg recovered the ball for the Owls. With first and 10 for the Owls on the Cats' 46 yard line another one of Schweers' passes was intercepted. Carrizo made a first down to the Hondo 47 but was unable to make another and lost the ball on downs on the Hondo 39 yard line. Schweers passed to Alderete for 7 yards as the final gun sounded. The final score was 21 for Carrizo and 13 for Hondo.
